EDUCATIONAL PROGRESS

POWER COMPANY HELPS SCHOOLS Alabama Power Pays Large Ta Sum Into State Educ Trust Fund

Swelling the special educations rust fund of Alabama by $349 110.98 was the check delivered today by Lamar Aldridge, treas-urer of the Alabama Power Company, in payment of the hydr be devoted to educational p 39 will receive over $5,000 each or high schools and elementary

The payment today is only part of the Alabama Power Company's taxes for 1937. Its total taxes for 1937 are estimated at over $2,750,000 by Thomas W. ing on the company's tax bill "There is a vast difference between the millions of dol-lars in taxes we will pay this year and the few thousands— $55.615.64 to be exact—paid by the Tennessee Valley Au-thority, whose untaxed phys-ical property in Alabama cost as much or more than ours. Should the TVA be successful in its apparent effort to de-stroy the power companies, the millions in taxes now paid by Alabama Power Company must be made up from some other source. Not only the state, but counties, municipali-ties and the United States gov-ernment are beneficiaries of taxes paid by the company. "In addition to the loss of the taxes now collected from Alabama Power Company, the state, and some counties and municipalities, will suffer a loss in tax collections because thousands of acres of rich agricultural lands and other properties are being acquired by TVA; most of it will be flooded; all of it will be removed from the tax rolls. Almoved from the tax rolls. Al ready several counties in North Alabama are feeling the tax pinch of the TVA where real estate assessments have been 'hiked' to offset the loss in the amount of taxable property; because TVA is a governmental agency and its ernmental agency and properties are non-taxalle. Thus, as its area of activities enlarges and it takes over more and more privately owned property, the remaining tax payers in other parts of the state will be burdened with additional taxes to make up "In addition to tax losses there is an estimated loss to the general economy of the state of 121/2 million dollars flooding by TVA of some the richest agricultural lands in Alabama. "When all of this is considered, perhaps the people of our state will feel they are high price for a slight, sub-sidized saving in retail electric -The Eufaula Tribune

IGHT with Alabama is the progress made by Education during the past twenty-five years. "Readin', writin' and rithmetic" were taught in many sections of Alabama in poorly furnished one-room schools to which pupils often trudged for many weary miles. Fortunate were the few who, on the completion of the grammar grades, could afford to go on through high school. Privileged was the mere handful who enjoyed the opportunity of a college education.

In 1904-05 for instance, there were in Alabama only 15 public high schools with an enrollment of 2,600 pupils. Today there are 323 senior high schools and 70 junior high schools with an enrollment of over 160,000. Many of the one-teacher grammar schools have been replaced with modern consolidated schools, offering an enriched program

At the University of Alabama, the 1904-05 enrollment records show about 400 students. Alabama Polytechnic Institute had only 450. Today the enrollment at the University of Alabama is around 5,000; at Alabama Polytechnic Institute, about 2,500. Enrollment at Birmingham-Southern, Howard and Spring Hill Colleges-and other schools in the state-show proportionate increases.

Administration of the schools and supervision of instruction has kept pace with the increase in enrollment, and in this respect our state ranks high. Educational opportunities in the poorer counties of Alabama are more nearly equal to those in the richer ones than in some of the wealthier states.

Credit for Alabama's great advance

No state can have a more valuable asset than an educated citizenry. List high, therefore, among the RIGHT things we have in Alabama, the progress being made in Alabama to attain this end.
